CONCLUSION

The Book of Romans is foundational to Christianity. In it the core Christian doctrines of God, man, and salvation are discussed. In it we get a picture of what a life that holds firmly to these truths looks like. In it the people of the kingdom of God are revealed to be those sinners who have seen their need of forgiveness because of their hopeless condition and have cast their lives on the mercy of God in Christ. These people (like you and me), are redeemed through faith by God's grace, are renewed and controlled by the Spirit of God, and are not only citizens of the kingdom of God, but members of His family.

...Are Justified _____ (Chap. 3)

_____ – How Justification Is Applied
(Chap. 4-5)

Just as the sin of Adam was imputed to all men, and we affirmed that imputation with our own sin, so now through faith the righteousness of Christ is imputed to all who believe. And as a consequence to this imputation, believers are:

1. _____

2. _____ (5:1)

3. _____ (5:2)

4. _____ (5:2)

5. _____ (5:3)

6. _____ (5:5)

7. _____ (5:9)

8. _____ (5:10)

9. _____ (8:14-17)

If you're interested in thinking about imputation more closely, a really good treatment of this topic is John Piper's Counted Righteous in Christ.

C. God's Role in Our Justification (Chap. 9-11)

The work of God in the salvation of people is outlined in five key verbs (Rom 8:29-30):

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____
